NEW “AIG SELECT-A-TERM” PRODUCT ALLOWS POLICYHOLDERS TO CUSTOMIZE TERM LIFE INSURANCE

Innovative Policy Provides Flexibility, Customization to Help Match Personal Financial Needs

HOUSTON, May 1, 2007 — American General Life Insurance Company (American General Life), a member company of American International Group, Inc. (AIG), today announced AIG Select-a-TermSM, a new term life insurance policy that allows policyholders the choice to customize the term limits.

AIG Select-a-Term offers the choice of a 10-year, a 12-year or any period from 15-through 30-year term life policy. AIG Select-a-Term’s flexibility provides policyholders the freedom to link their term policy to specific life events, such as the payoff of a mortgage or the completion of funding their child’s college education and avoid paying for extra, unnecessary coverage.

“Life doesn’t always fit into neat little boxes of five-year increments that are the standard for other term insurance policies,” said Doug Israel, senior vice president of product development, AIG American General. “AIG Select-a-Term provides policy holders with a powerful new way to help customize their life insurance plans to anticipate many known future life events.”
And, because the number of citizens over age 85 is anticipated to double by 2030\(^1\), AIG Select-A-Term has expanded issue ages so clients in their mid-50s, 60s and even 70 years of age may now purchase term insurance that provides coverage into their 80s—much longer than most term plans currently allow.

AIG Select-a-Term offers affordable death benefit coverage with a conversion feature that allows the policyholder to exchange the term policy for a permanent life product and a terminal illness endorsement with the option to accelerate an amount of the initial policy’s death benefit.

Optional riders available with AIG Select-a-Term include an Accidental Death Benefit, Waiver of Premium, Child Rider and Disability Income Rider.
